PROOF ROLLER.

JOB ROLLER.

Novelty Hand Proof Press.

The wheels, together with a spiral leverage, raise the India Rubber Impression Cylinder a little over the proper height for taking the impression from a galley, which is supposed to be lying flat upon an imposing stone or an ordinary table. The matter is inked by a proof-roller, the paper dampened and laid upon the type, and the Hand Proof Press placed in position over and astride the galley. It is next pressed firmly down by the hand of the operator and run over the matter from bottom to top. The spiral springs yield to the pressure, and the rubber cylinder gives the impression. A pair of thumb-screws make due allowance in a moment for the difference in thickness of a brass or wooden galley, or no galley at all, as it is equally applicable to a job locked up in a chase or tied with a string.

Every press is provided with two sizes of clamping boards for each end, to protect the paper from indentations from the iron clamps. A thumb screw is used to raise or lower the clamping frame, whereby a central pressure can be obtained on any size paper, from 2 x 2 inches up to the full capacity of the press. If paper is used for finishing the edges after gluing, the block can be thrown back on the boards and pressed by its own weight. The blocks can be made any thickness, and separated by using a thin, sharp knife.

"CLIPPER"

OR

Side Lever Peerless

This is one of the easiest Hand Machines in the market. It has no complicated machinery, and all the power acts directly on the knife-blade, which moves in a sliding motion, giving a clean shear-cut so easily, that steam-power would be superfluous.

The lever being at the side of the machine, enables the operator to work it without moving from the front of the Cutter or changing his position.

BREVIER No. 12. (8 Point No. 22.)

WHAT should a person use to clean his teeth? was the question asked of a well-known dentist recently. The dentist replied at once, Nothing but water. There are more good teeth ruined by so-called dentifrices than by all other causes in the world put together. The object of the makers of these dentifrices is, of course, to produce a preparation that will, with very little rubbing of the brush, make the teeth look perfectly clean and white. To accomplish this they put pumice-stone, and sometimes strong alkalies, in their preparations. Pumice-stone will unquestionably take all tartar off the tooth, and it will also, just as unquestionably, take all the enamel with it. An alkali will make a yellow tooth look white in a few seconds, but before

A PARTY of doctors and ladies were discussing recently a question which interests every body on this terrestrial sphere, namely, the snows of time which sooner or later must whiten the head of president and peasant, and a layman who was also present said: I know a man who but a few weeks ago had a mustache as brown and dark brown as the fur of a seal. Now it is nearly white in places, and not a hair of it but is gray. The change took place in the space of one night, that succeeding the death of a daughter, who was to him the prettiest little maid that ever crowded for kisses. Intense grief

MINTON No. 11. (7 Point No. 22.)

THE WISDOM OF ECONOMY.—Look most to your spending. No matter what comes in, if more goes out you will be poor always. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little expenses, like mice in a barn, when they are many, make great waste. Hair by hair the head gets bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber. A barrel is soon empty if the tap leaks but with your mouth. When you mean to save begin a drop a minute. The ale-jug is a great waste. In all other things keep within compass. In clothes choose suitable and lasting stuff, and not tawdry

YEARS ago, when a man decided to start in business, he would inform his friends and acquaintances of his intention, procure his stock, open his shop, and wait for customers. As they made their appearance he would attend to their wants with all the painstaking solicitude which were unavoidable in those days of plodding business habits. But even with close industry it would often require the best efforts of a large

FINANCIAL.—There was an active borrowing demand for money at the leading local banks to-day, and also considerable animation in checking, depositing, and other clerical branches of banking; in fact, the character of business in monetary circles is unchanged from that of the past few weeks, with the exception that the banks are less pressed for funds, still the reserves are small as a rule, from the nature of the business in progress, and the banks are obtaining full remuneration for the funds employed. There is but little currency being sent to the country, and also little direct return flow, but the general supply is ample. My pensive Memory brings o'er Those Scenes to be Enjoyed no more;
 Those scenes Regretted ever:
 The measure of our Youth is full,
 Life's Evening Dream is dark and dull,
 And we may Meet, ah! Never!

 Nor can we be what we Recall,
 Nor dare we think on what we are.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 1, 1884.

The demand for something new for Circulars has induced the cutting of this letter, an imitation of the Type-Writer's work.

A communication printed in this way commonly receives more attention than if printed with ordinary type, the majority of business ~~and~~ letters of any importance being produced by means of the Type-Writer.

The Characters are all of uniform thickness, and Spaces of the same thickness as the letters are furnished with each font.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 15th, 1888.

TO WIDE-AWAKE PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS:

Dear Sirs:—We take much pleasure in presenting a specimen of this new 12-Point Earle Type-Writer face, which is a correct imitation of the most perfect type-writer work of the present day. It is put up in convenient fonts, 20A 108a, at \$7.50 per font. Spaces of the same thickness as the letters go with ~~the~~ each font; also these additional characters: " (ø % / # $\frac{1}{4}$ $\frac{1}{2}$ $\frac{3}{4}$ a ~~the~~ and _ We will be pleased to fill promptly all orders for this type. A Boat's the Down, the Steep-Top of Thought
 The Attie-Room, the Cock-Loft of the Head
 The Voice where Fancy's Boomy-Bus are Caught, Which Else, Beyond the Memory's Reach had Fled

A Boat well-brushed is a Top-Atom to the Man; Corinthian Column he, with Cap to Match; a Column it were Poetry to Jean, and with a glance its Fine Proportions catch.
 A Crownless Boat lacks Poetry; and he, who'er the miserable man may be, whose Tangled Hair stands peering Through the Crown, far from the Grass quite hath Tumbled Down: sans Boat, sans Character, sans All!

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 0

The Moon is up, and yet it is not Night
 Sunset Divides the Sky with her; a Sea of Glory
 Streams along the Alpine Heights

Heaven is free from Clouds, but of all Colors seems to be; Melted to One Vast Iris of the West, where the Day joins the past Eternity;
 while, on the other hand, sweet Dian's crest floats through the azure Air, an Island of the Blest!

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 0

The very Generations
Of the Dead are swept Away, and Toil inherits Toil, until the Memory of an Age is fled
And, buried, sinks beneath its Off-spring's doom. Where are the Epi-taphs our Fathers read, save a few gleamed from the sepulchral gloom?

1 2 3 4 5 & 6 7 8 9 0

There is a Pleasure in the Pathless Woods, There is a
Rapture on the Lonely Shore, There is Society Where
None Intrudes, By the Deep
Sea, and Music in its Roar

There, in a moment, we may Plunge our Years
 In Fatal Penitence, and in the Blight
 Of our own Soul, Turn all our Blood to Tears, And Color Things to come with Hues of Night
 The Race of Life becomes a Hopeless Flight To those That Walk in Darkness: on the Sea, The Boldest Steer but Where their Ports Invite, But There are Wanderers o'er Eternity, Whose Bark Drives on and On, and Anchored Ne'er Shall be

He is an Evening Reveller, who Makes his Life an Infancy, and Sings his Fill
 At intervals, some Bird from out the Brakes Starts into Voice a Moment, then is Still There seems a floating whisper on the hill,
 But that is fancy, for the starlight dew's All silently their tears of love instil, Weeping themselves away, till they infuse Deep into Nature's breast the spirit of her hues

§ 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 0 £

Time! which brings all beings
 To their level, And Sharp
 Adversity will teach at last Man
 And—as we would hope
 Perhaps the Devil, That Neither
 Of their intellects are vast: While youth's hot wishes in our red veins revel, We know not this—the blood flows on too fast; But as torrents widen toward the ocean; we ponder deeply on each past emotion
