An important announcement comes from the Imperial Typewriter Co., Ltd., Leicester. It is now ready to market a new model with straight keyboard. The keyboard of this machine contains 28 keys for the English language and 80 keys for certain foreign languages. It is arranged in three straight lines. The touch is exceedingly light and the action rapid. The Model "C" Imperial is a portable machine. Its weight is 9½ pounds (4.35 kilos). Dealers should investigate. For further particulars write the company. The Imperial Typewriter Co. was established in 1902.

John Drew, Union street, Aldershot, has taken up the agency of the Corona typewriter for Aldershot district and Swindon.

The "Teleframe" is a device used in connection with the telephone, marketed by Branson & Co. (Leicester), Ltd., King street, Leicester.

The Globe Typewriter Co., 49 Deansgate, Manchester, has been highly successful since its establishment a short time ago. Manufacturers seeking active agents in the Manchester district should communicate with it. The proprietors have had a very long connection with the typewriter industry and now specializes in high grade rebuilds. It has connections all over the North of England.

The Read Manufacturing Co. (London), Ltd., 17-19 Finsbury street, London, E. C., offers its carbon papers to the trade. The finish of these high grade carbon papers is the result of 12 years' experience.—Adv.

That Topics certainly has staunch supporters in the Provinces we have had many evidences. These enthusiastic subscribers we appreciate very much.

All rebuilt typewriter dealers should read the advertisement, "Something New," on this page, and then write for full particulars.—Adv.

P. M. Mason, of Cambridge, has joined the list of Corona dealers.

A change has been made in the Manchester district and the new agents for the Corona typewriter are Cartwright & Rattray, 12-14 Brown street, Manchester.

The September number of Topics will be published, as usual, as the Annual Trade Review; rush ad copy for that special number to us at once.
